Abstract

Strong and vigorous financial system is the pillar of economic growth, progress and success of economies. Lack of financial services accessibility to major portion of the othe population is a big problem in India. Not only in India in but also in many developing countries financial exclusion has become a major hurdle in economic growth and progress. Therefore, the significance of an inclusive financial system is widely accepted in many countries and it has become policy priority. Financial services access can really boost the financial condition and standards of life of the poor and the disadvantaged. So, RBI has been constantly encouraging the banking sector to develop the banking network both through setting up of new branches, installation of new ATMs, implementation of EBT and also through BC model by leveraging upon the information and communication technology (ICT), hence there is enormous growth in the bank branches in rural and urban India. This article focuses current status of financial inclusion in Nizamabad District of Telangana State.

Introduction

Financial Inclusion is the delivery of financial services at an affordable cost to vast sections of the disadvantaged and low income groups. The purpose of financial inclusion is to provide equitable opportunities to every individual to avail the facility of formal financial channels for better life, better living and better income. It is crucial to innovate and provide means to include the financially excluded by way of ensuring access to financial services, and timely and adequate credit. Financial inclusion can be described as the provision of affordable financial services, viz., access to payments and remittance facilities, savings, loans and insurance services by the formal financial system to those who are excluded.

The Indian banking industry has been able to penetrate to less than half of the population over the last few decades. The Reserve Bank of India (the regulator) has taken a number of steps to further expedite the process of financial inclusion. Its efforts in adapting to the changing needs of the economy and enabling greater access to financial services to the un-banked and less penetrated segments are praiseworthy. Broad based financial inclusion is a must as there is hardly any instance where transition from an agrarian system to a post industrial modern society has happened in any economy without the setting up of a robust financial system.

Table 6 shows that 3.93 lacs of households are covered with second account also.

Conclusion

It is concluded that financial inclusion shows positive and valuable changes because of change in strength and technological changes. Nizamabad is the first district which achieved 100% financial inclusion in Telangana and also in undivided Andhra Pradesh.

81 % of Households covered by second account also. It is a great achievement of banking sector in Nizamabad district. But mere having bank account should not be considered as financial inclusion, there should continual usage of account. In order to achieve real benefit of financial inclusion, now all regulatory bodies, Government and banks should focus on uninterrupted usage of accounts.
