ABSTRACT

Indian Society is male dominant society. If we observe the condition of a men in present period of Indian society. In the absence and lack of any system or systematic information data most of the persons are coming and reporting up with violence by a women on men. It may be as any relation related to a men and women relationship. It is to be found that maximum cases are related to girl friends, wife, sisters and working at job place and daughter, step mother also. It is noticeable that the issue of the problem related to violence against man by women and its associated factors are modern and changing gender roles awareness, power relations, education, mobile phones. It is important to note that there are two types of crime against men before marriage and after marriage also. It present paper it is to be predicted that stick type of crimes will be increase in future due to implications for rules in Indian society or relationship between man and women relationship, their thinking, their environment of society culture. Present paper is based as secondary data, counseling, interviews discussion with the person/make victims of crime. This paper will play an important and crucial role to understand the main factors responsible and as closeting violence against men or male person. There is a need for such type of study in future to save men life.

Key words : Violence, Indian Society

Introduction

Men and Women are main part of a society. In Indian society man is found as dominant on women. But in present ara time in changing about 50% of cases of males are suffering from violence against them by women. It happens before marriage, after marriage, by girls, step mothers, sister wife, girl friends. At male side due to their regard men fall in depression and commit suicide. They are unable to report their problem, share their problem with other persons. However men cells are opening in districts and various areas. Changing the modern pattern of India society, behavior of girls, women, lady at work place. In greediness of richness women are their related family members can play a harmful game against men and all their family members. If we find out about the cases of dowry deaths 3040 section under..... under the section lady married with a person and her death with any reason the husband will responsible for this crime under 7 years after marriage date. In most of the cases family members of female also put blame on male/husband.

American National Family Survey (Gelles 1990, 99) The studyrelated to crime against men is domestic violence with changing gender roles Women's independency in economic condition, self dependence control over, economy and resources are the main reasons of crime against men.

Domestic Violence means a broad range of violent acts which is committed by any one member of a family against another. It includes not only physically but also verbal, sexual abuse and psychologically harassment.

Mostly in Indian Society domestic violence is always believed to be inflicted on female, wife and women. But it was found that during some personal interactions with many males in our society or in any organization i.e. offices, public place and industries etc. male persons are also suffering from such type of crime. Sometimes many courts also commented on false allegations of such type of domestic violence by females. Most of the persons some time are not still ready to speak about his harassment due to social environment of Indian society. Sometime males are ignored by society and courts according to the sections which are more developed for women by constitution.

Current position and crucial situation of crime against men is that most of the men are in development by some state govt. of India. After that most of the cases of violence against men are underreported. In most of the cases of love marriages male always suffer from domestic violence. On the other side in arranged marriages male/man always become more responsible for Dowry, Dowry deaths and other crimes committed against women. There is a need for healthy discussion and strong decision with the legal and socio-cultural aspects and issues related to violence against man and preventive strategies for such type of crimes should be reduced by implementation of strategies regarding these crimes.

Types of violence against man

At world level violence against man recognized across India society totally affects on a person male or female's life in every way and every situation. It may be mentally, emotionally psychologically and against its human rights. Most of the cases are committed in both conditions physically and emotionally both.

1. Psychological type of crime against men out of total cases of crime 85% reported as emotionally tortured and 3.5% of hurt and 29.7% were insulted in front of others such as mental abuse treats to the male i.e. husband and his relatives who are suffering from false allegations of domestic violence and dowry or dowry deaths.
2. Physical violence against men. It is committed by wife, her parents and relatives very common. By throwing many objects by wife cell phones crockery utensils on the husband.

Sexual Harassment

About one percent males had been found experienced of sexual violence when he denies sex.

A home and even outside home to get some rewards and punishments males are also forcedly involved in sexual activities by females. A young, good qualifying and income sources rich background in India a male may be abducted and forcedly marry to her without his consent. 498A under domestic violence, false rape cases and dowry cases were expressed by various courts during the time of their case proceeding.

Caste status, education less income status were not found really concerned with crime against man. Man is suffering from low income level or source of income than wife, depending on wife's income is also a big factor in modern time. Because she is facing stress at workplace by seniors, non-fulfillment of expectations, frustration anger as a result a violent behavior against husband and children.

The main reason of under reporting and legal steps from husband are avoided due to male dominant society and feeling shameful beaten by women, by unmarried girl and wife. They always afraid of getting false report under 498 A dowry, when he tried to complain about any such type of problem within marriage time and family no single persons take his problem as serious

Objective of the Study

The main objective of present study is to explain the condition of male persons in modern time and violence against men in Indian society and its impact of social environment or impact of social environment on violence against men in Indian society.

Study Area

India is having male dominant society good constitution but in present period generation gap between old and young persons, modern technology. Changing behavior of female, new thinking of girls, their family against men for earning income from man and their parents. From ancient time Indian society was known as a very nice and golden society them new Indian society. At the present time condition of men is more crucial due to changing behavior of females. However females are educated economically strong but their thinking is not more respectful for male also. Now-a-days women are more dominating on men. Upper middle and middle class family use suffering from such type of problem in India. God is worship. Goddess are always respectfully worshiped during ancient period. But women and men both were respected for each other.

Research Methodology

Present study is basically depend upon personal perspectives of men, their interviews, under reporting cases. It is based on secondary data and descriptive type of explanation of the problem. Present study also highlights the consequences and causes of the violence against man in India and how the helpless man do not get justice from court society in some cases like dowry deaths, love marriage in intercaste.

Findings and Conclusion

It is to be noticeable that if we talk about U.K, U.S.A. and Canada data is collected under Partner abuse State of knowledge project only 19.3% cases but according to Indian study 51.5% persons were affect with this same problem. It was found that in present time period Indian social, cultured, political and human welfare, family, structure an changing speedily. However violence against women are increasing no doubt but crime against man are also increasing fastly. Man are suffering from mentally and physically torture by wife and her family due to misuse of laws in favour of crimes related to woman. It was found that maximum husbands who in middle class family near about almost 98% are suffering from domestic violence more than once in their own life. They do not living an average life

Findings :

As an overall situation of Indian society man is suffering from crucial condition. Society does not think about the future of man, woman and children. Because wehn the problem comes in a family, man and woman are pillars of a good manner's family. But if there is not a balance between these pillars, the children will be suffer family will suffer, with such type of situation.

National family Health Survey report 2004 shows that some times violence against man inflicted by wife, female partner and mostly about 3 crore man are tortured mentally and physically by wife's relations in India.

"Save family foundation along with my nation in Delhi conducted a study of violence against men from April 2005 to March, 2006, total sampling methods 1,650 men were observed and interviewed, with them, knowing personal cases view of them and found most of the respondents were suffering with most abusive and dominating behaviour of their wives.

According to the WHO report 2002, in India there is a gender paradox in society about men and women thinking women always dominant committing suicide for false allegation on men but on the other side men die by suicide more frequently then women.

Suggestion

To stop the legal terrorism Section 498A and ant dowry laws, Dowry Prohibition Act 1961 passed by the Supreme Court of India. There is a need to stop the misuse of section 498A. Because there is not any law where a man can larger a lodge a strong complaint against his crucial situation that created by his wife and relatives.

Even after divorce cases of maintenance finance, rape, false allegation children's property right are also increasing. The law related to man should be a spouse crime but it should not be differentiated with gender.

So there is a need for protection to both man & women from the spousal crime in a family.
