2. DISCUSSION:

2.1 Nomenclature:

Shalikha is used at first by James Westland in 1871. He uses it as "Salikha or Salkhia, is half way between Magura and Jessore, and is situated on the Jessore and Dacca road, which is hardly kept up in this part." [1] "It is one of the old thannahs of the district. 'Sulka', which is evidently intended to mean this place, is mentioned in 1871 as a chauki of Bhusna thannah; but it apparently ceased to be kept up when the police was in the hands of the zemindars, and it was not one of the ten thannahs established at the time of the permanent settlement. [2] There are many opinions about the nomenclature of the upazila Shalikha. The researcher will use it as Shalikha in his research paper. The Shalikha thana is established in 1863. In the census of 1881, Shalikha name has been written. Dr. Ashok Biswas opines: The name of Shalikha comes from the Shalukh flower. [3] On the other hand, Sher Shah establishes a road named Sher Shah Sarak from Jessore to Sonargeon. Sher Shah Sarak has been crossed away upon the heart of Bagherpara upazila. From that time the people who engage into constructing the Sher Shah Sarak, they are very interested by eating rice Shali. Fro Shali rice, it is renamed Shalikha. Mr. Dr. Ashok Biswas does not believe it. From age to age, the history is made up of from folktale and rumor. For this reason, the local people and the whole Bengalees do not habituate to write about their own culture and tradition. The researcher does not agree with the opinion of Dr. Ashok Biswas. The upazila Shalikha where there grows a plenty of Shali rice. [4] From Shali rice, it is renamed Shalikha which is imagined by the scholars. The researcher entrusts that from "Shalukh flower or Shali rice" it is renamed into Shalikha upazila. There is an another opinion that "administrative Shalikha thana is created in 1845". [5] It comes to existence in in 1924. It is learnt that during the reign of Sher Shah there constructs a road named Sher Shah Road. [6] This road comes from the upazila Bagherpara. A huge quantity of Shali paddy used to grow in this area. It is generally belived that the upazila might have derived its name from the word Shalli. [7] The Shalikha thana is transferred into upazila in 1983. [8] The upazila occupies an area of 228.65 sq.km. It is located between 23<sup>0</sup>15' and 23<sup>0</sup>27' north latitudes and between 89<sup>0</sup>15' and 89<sup>0</sup>30'

east longitudes. The upazila is bounded on the north by Jhenidah Sadar and Magura Sadar upazila, on the east by Magura Sadar and Mohammadpur upazila, on the south by Narail Sadar upazila and Bagherpara upazila of Jessore zila and on the west by Bagherpara and Kaliganj upazila of Jhenidah zila. <sup>[9]</sup>

The educational history of the upazila Shalikha can be traced back to the ancient types of Bangla. The education of Bangla is differentiated from age after age. The education of the upazila Shalikka is the present condition and the same of the whole Bangladesh. All have to invent what is the educational account about the Bangla such as Gupta, Pala, Sena, Sultan, Pathan, Mughal, Nabob, British and Pakistan. Maktab [17] and Madrashes[18] educational systems are in the Muslims period.

In the British period, the educational system is revolutionized at a great development in Bangladesh. The researcher has failed to discover about the ancient education system of the upazila Shalikka. Because the ancient time, the people of Shalikka do not keep in record for the future document about their ancient condition not only Shalikka but also all over in Bangladesh. The researcher seems that most of the educational institutions are founded in the English period with the great role of the English. The education system of the English has grasped to the whole Bangladesh. Shalikka is also a tiny township of the district Magura of Bangladesh.
